

Academic Resources

The Think Tank provides tutoring, academic skills, and college survival programs to help you become a better student. With locations across campus and online, you have a lot of options to improve in a variety of academic areas.

- FREE drop-in tutoring for writing, math, science, and Spanish and French.
- 60-minute tutoring appointments available in many courses for $24/hr.
- FREE Academic Skills Tutoring to help you develop the skills you need to be successful, like note-taking, exam prep, and time management.
- Six-week and semester long College Survival bundles, for a fee, if you want to meet with a professional Learning Specialist.

The UA Libraries offer a variety of resources to help you with all of your research and study needs!

- Need a place to study? FREE individual study rooms (first-come, first-served) and group study rooms (reserved) are available for you.
- Need to make a video, do a presentation, or record a lecture? You can check out many technology items for FREE!
- Time management not your thing? Try using the Assignment Scheduler to help plot out your success.
- You can Ask a Librarian if you need help finding resources – in person, on the phone, or in live chat!
- If you find the perfect resource, but it's not available, use Document Delivery to have an item sent to campus or right to your email.

The Advising Resource Center is your online portal to many student academic resources. In addition to convenient links to many policies that you need to know about, the ARC has:

- An online Advisor Directory where you can find advisor's contact information.
- A grade calculator so you can see what it will take to get to your goal GPA (remember, different colleges may have higher requirements than the 2.0 for good academic standing).
- A comprehensive A-Z list of Student Services across the university.

If you need to bring your writing to the next level, consider checking out the Writing Skills Improvement Program. Professional writing tutors are available to help you hone your writingskills.

- Workshops on a variety of topics are offered throughout the semester and are FREE for UA students!
- Up to 8 FREE Tutoring sessions a semester, plus more for a fee, if you want.
- Fee-for-service editing services for high-stakes writing assignments.

Disability Resources is the campus hub for all disability-related services. After you get connected with Disability Resources, you can:

- Access approved accommodations.
- Use Assistive Technology in the DRC Lounge.
- Get fit in the Adaptive Fitness Center.

Wildcat Academy is an innovative program for first year students that provides a customized roadmap to your college success. Through structured programming and an individually tailored schedule, Wildcat Academy helps ease your transition to the University of Arizona.
